Pick of IBC09

Sonifex S1 digital/analogue radio broadcast mixer

The S1 is a small on-air desk that offers digital operation to the community and college radio sector but with analogue inputs and outputs alongside the digits. Features include a main stereo output bus and two aux output busses, but the S1 also caught the eye for its simple, attractive layout.

The exhibitors at IBC2009 continue to innovate, despite the fact we are living in tough economic times. It was excellent to see the 'Loudness' issue - how broadcasters should/can test and control loudness levels - on the agenda more than ever before, certainly up there with the stereoscopic 3D pictures! So this year, several journalists looked over the audio offerings at the event and PSNE has come up with a Top Ten Editor's 'Pick of IBC'. (Actually, there's more than ten, we couldn't separate a couple of items) Are you on the list?
